

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

The average man would not feel very much elated over the fact that the penitentiary for five years but William Sharp thinks that it is the most delightful thing that ever happened to him. Sharp is the man who held up and shot Rev. Martens, at Alliance, and then tried to shoot the policeman when arrested. He was given a trial before Judge Billingsley, Wednesday afternoon. Attorney Bothwell represented him and Prosecutor Bow upheld the case for the state. The testimony, the pleadings, the charge and the whole case was concluded in short order and after being out for fifteen minutes the jury came in and said he was guilty.

Sharp was sentenced this morning to five years in the penitentiary. He is very happy over the sentence. He says he is innocent but he is pleased notwithstanding, but for in case he was acquitted there would be no more money for him to take him over to New Castle, Pa. Here he was implicated in the burglary with Robert Joyce and others who recently got nine years apiece in the pen. Sharp admits his guilt in the Pennsylvania case and says he is glad he is convicted here. "I would have got thirteen years sure in Pennsylvania," said he. "My record is bad there, I served one term of thirteen years in the Keystone pen and I would about as leave as go back there for thirteen years more."

Sharp is a bold thief. He started when twelve years old and has been an outlaw ever since.

Margaret Turner, by her attorneys, Wann and Bow and Day, Lynch and Day, has commenced action in court against the Linden coal company for $10,000 damages. The plaintiff is the widow of Benjamin Turner. The latter was employed as brakeman on the C. & S. railroad which has tracks running past the mines of the defendant. The defendant allowed a coal pan to hang over the track and Turner was struck and killed. He had a family and they ask for $10,000 because of his death.

Harmon Found Guilty.

The jury in the Albert Harmon case had a long session of it. When they took the first vote at 11 o'clock Wednesday they stood 9 for guilty and 3 for acquittal. They continued to stand that way without a change until 9:30 o'clock this morning. Then the three yielded and Harmon was adjudged guilty of burglary and larceny as charged. His attorneys filed a motion for a new trial.

Harmon was brought into court this morning and sentenced by Judge Billingsley to three years in the penitentiary.

STARK'S DEMOCRACY

Holds an Enthusiastic Mass Convention---Party Leaders Declare for Harmony and Victory.

The democracy of Stark county met Friday in mass convention in Assembly hall. It was an old time and old fashioned democratic gathering. The best men in the party were in attendance and all were enthusiastic for democratic success.

Chairman Wells, of the county central committee called the convention to order and Gus Hall, of Massillon, was made temporary secretary.

"Squire Pontius, on the call for business moved that a committee of five each on credentials, rules and order of business, permanent organization, state delegates and resolutions be appointed by the chairman."

W. J. Piers at once moved to amend the motion by omitting the committee on resolutions. This little amendment caused the convention to adjourn in a debate that lasted all morning. There was a considerable portion of the delegates who were opposed to the convention having anything to do with resolutions of any character. The idea was to avoid expression, rather waiting for the state convention.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

A. McGregor was the slated chairman of the committee on resolutions and he wanted a set adopted, so he moved to lay Mr. Piers' amendment on the table and in support of his position made a lengthy speech. W. A. Lynch made a strong argument in favor of the amendment, contending that harmony would be served by omitting resolutions and that at any rate the county ticket was the prime consideration.

Karl W. W. Roberts, of Alliance, wanted harmony but he also wanted resolutions, and he advocated an expression by the convention.

The question was discussed pro and con for some time and on the vote being taken, so voted in favor of doing away with the resolution committee to 42 in favor, thus adopting Mr. Piers' amendment.

There was really a little test of strength in this vote between the free silver advocates and those opposed, in which the opponents of free silver gained the day.

The chair now appointed the following committees in accordance with the original motion as amended:

COMMITTEES.

Credentials—M. O. Shearer, R. S. Shields, Willard Kline, Emory Osborne and Thomas Kearney.

Rules and order of business—Jesse Teeters, Otto E. Young, Henry Jolly, J. H. Reigner and Henry Miller.

Permanent organization—Isaac R. Sherwood, Andy Dehoff, Homer Baughman, Christ Schott and Joseph Klusterman.

State delegates—John C. Welty, Ed. T. Royer, Anthony Howells, Andrew Pontius and Herman Eckard.

Chairman Wells had no sooner finished announcing the above committees when Consul Anthony Howells again threw the convention into a lengthy discussion by a motion extending the meeting until 11 o'clock.

He offered the following resolution for adoption:

"Resolved, That the democratic convention of Stark county endorse and reaffirm the national platform of 1892 on which the National Democracy triumphantly elected its candidates."

The resolution matter had been settled once and everybody was satisfied but Mr. Howells' resolution stirred things up again. While reading it a pleasant smile settled on the countenance of Mr. A. McGregor; he waited in patience and when Mr. Howells concluded he was on his feet.

In an instant and secured recognition of the chair. It was just the chance he was waiting for, just the chance that a few moments before he thought had been taken away. He reached into his pocket drawing forth a lengthy document offered it as an amendment and addition to Mr. Howells' resolution.

Mr. McGregor's amendment simply caused a running debate that was ended only by the dinner hour.

The amendment upon amendment offered. Hon. John C. Welty made an eloquent plea for the McGregor amendment. Hon. R. S. Shields made a strong argument against it and moved that both the Howells and McGregor resolutions be laid on the table. For a half hour the convention listened to eloquence and argument from both sides and also took two or three votes. The McGregor adherents appeared to be beginning ground and Mr. Howells very wisely put a stop to all further talk by drawing his resolution. This also withdrew Mr. McGregor's amendment and then on motion the convention adjourned to 1:30, the special committee to meet in the meantime and be ready to report to the convention on reassembling.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At ten minutes to two o'clock Chairman Wells called the convention to order and called for the report of committees. The first committee called was:

CREDENTIALS.

The committee reported that there was only one contest that in precinct C, first ward, of Canton. The committee recommended that the delegates as named by the central committee be seated. This report was adopted.

THE RULES AND ORDER.

The committee on rules and order reported in detail and their report was unanimously adopted.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of making the temporary organization permanent. This motion prevailed unanimously. The rules of the national house of representatives were adopted. Gen. I. R. Sherwood was chairman of the committee.

THE TICKET NAMED.

Mr. Dalry of Navarre named Amos B. Mass of Bethlehem township, in a very short little speech, as a candidate for sheriff. Mr. Mass was nominated by acclamation, the rules being suspended.

Mr. Algie Pomeroy in a very clever speech, presented the name of Charles F. Oberly, for clerk. Rules suspended, nominated by acclamation.

Hon. John C. Welty, in behalf of the democracy of Stark county, in an eloquent speech presented the name of Hermann Leffer, of Massillon, for treasurer. Rules suspended, nominated by acclamation.

John McCain nominated Josiah Clutz, who had once before served the county well as commissioner. Rules suspended, nominated by acclamation.

Hon. R. S. Shields electrified the convention by presenting as a candidate for auditor the well known, popular and efficient incumbent, Louis A. Leichter. Rules suspended, nominated by acclamation.

For infirmity director Charles Kriebbaum presented the name of John Shields, of Jackson township. Squire J. H. Reigner also presented Michael A. Miller, of Osnaburg. A vote being taken Miller received 100 1/2 votes and Shields 45 1/2. Miller's nomination was made unanimous.

For surveyor Mr. J. H. Reigner named Oliver W. Holl. Rules suspended, nominated by acclamation.

The call for nominations for representatives (two to be selected) brought out five candidates. Edward L. Smith named Samuel Burget, of Canton. Dr. E. G. Williams, of Alliance, was named. Hon. John C. Welty named H. B. Sibilla, of Massillon. J. S. Piers named A. H. McCadden, of Canal Fulton. Hon. Edward S. Raff named John G. Warwick, of Bethlehem township. The roll being called, the result was as follows: Burget, 32; Williams, 99; Sibilla, 65; McCadden, 99; Warwick, 22; Anthony Howells, 40; Mr. Williams and Mr. McCadden, on motion of Mr. Reigner, having received a majority of the votes of the delegates present, were declared the nominees, unanimously.

This completed the work of the convention and a motion to adjourn prevailed, leaving the resolution business untouched, an action endorsed by nearly every democrat present.

The convention was harmonious and good natured and everybody seemed out for victory by a vim and vigor campaign.

A NEW CHURCH

Mr. Ferguson Will Have--The Old Church to be Divided.

PRESBYTERY SETTLES IT.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson's Resignation Was Accepted--The Deliberations Were Characterized by Harmony--Presbytery Says Canton Is Large Enough for Two Churches.

The Mahoning Presbytery met today at Alliance in the first Presbyterian church. The object of the session was to settle the trouble in the First Presbyterian church in Canton.

Rev. Mr. White, of Youngstown, was moderator and Rev. Mr. Hanna, of Home-town, clerk.

Presbytery lost no time in preliminaries but got right down to business. The committee appointed to consider Rev. Ferguson's resignation reported in favor of accepting the same. The question was then put to the members on the adoption of the said report and the resignation was accepted.

After the matter of Rev. Ferguson was disposed of the clerk read a petition, signed by 200 persons, asking Presbytery the right to establish a new Presbyterian church in Canton. This petition was the move of Rev. Ferguson and his friends and clearly indicated their frame of mind.

The petition brought out a great deal of discussion. Mr. M. A. Troutman, of Canton, the representative of the session of the church, spoke against granting the request. He said the church was in a bad way financially, being over $1,200 in debt, with the pastor's salary not paid in full for this year or last.

Mr. T. H. Rabe spoke in favor of granting the request of the petition by urging that the city was large enough for two Presbyterian churches.

After a full discussion Presbytery took a vote on the question and decided to grant the request; but three dissenting votes were recorded against the request.

The desire of the petitioners granted, Presbytery then appointed a committee of five members to come to Canton and make arrangements for another Presbyterian church.

The argument that moved Presbytery to the action of another church was the size of Canton. The members thought that Canton was large enough for two churches, and besides, with the present hatches in going shape, the quicker you leave the city the better off you will be. I will not permit women to visit hotels with men and every time you come before me the sentence will be increased. I also propose to clean out the other resorts of a questionable character."

The entire proceedings were harmonious and devoid of sensational utterances.

THEY MUST GO.

Mayor Rice Declares That Women of Loose Morals Must Leave Canton.

Mayor Rice has decided to rid the city of a certain class of objectionable female characters who have been plying their vocations in this vicinity. He quickly made an announcement from the bench Monday morning, in passing upon the cases of four persons who had been arrested for disorderly conduct.

Turning to the two women the mayor said: "If you cannot or will not secure honest employment here, the quicker you leave the city the better off you will be. I will not permit women to visit hotels with men and every time you come before me the sentence will be increased. I also propose to clean out the other resorts of a questionable character."

Sunday night Kate Kline, Frank Stanton, Lizzie Colman and George Walters secured rooms at the Union Hotel. Later they were arrested by Patrolmen Rohn, Hosler and McClellan, charges of disorderly conduct being placed against all of them. They were fined $5 and costs each. It seems that Lizzie Colman and George Walters have been in trouble of the same nature before, both of them having recently been released from the workhouse.

OTHER CASES.

Early Sunday morning the night force raided a Saxon street place, and arrested Jack Crawford as the keeper. Frankie Crawford and Annie Hatley are residents, and James Hatley as a visitor. The defendants claim they are married and have engaged Attorney Charles C. Upham, who demanded jury trials for his clients.

Simon Decker is under arrest charged with intoxication.

Lincoln Merriman was before Mayor Rice this morning on peace proceedings commenced by ex-Patrolman Fred C. Romney. It seems that Merriman and the officer had trouble a number of years ago, while the policeman was attempting to make an arrest. It is claimed the parties met last Friday and that Merriman made many threats, which resulted in the arrest. The matter was compromised by Merriman paying $25 costs and agreeing not to further trouble Mr. Romney.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

The State Wins as Usual--Close Contest for Representatives--The Ticket.

The result of the republican primaries held on Saturday is far from being satisfactory to a large majority of the party. A number of the leaders used their little hatches in going shape, the quicker you leave the city the better off you will be. I will not permit women to visit hotels with men and every time you come before me the sentence will be increased. I also propose to clean out the other resorts of a questionable character."

The returns were slow in being received here, and at noon Monday there were still 21 precincts that had not been heard from. They are mostly small precincts, however, and it is thought the result will not be changed.

Hiam Doll, for sheriff; T. W. Casselman, for clerk of the courts; and Jacob Gebel for treasurer, were nominated without opposition.

Four republicans were anxious to be nominated for representatives, and only two are to be elected. There are many disappointed people. There are still 19 precincts to hear from and the total vote received is as follows:

J. C. Luper, 1,092.
Thomas Wilson, 1,899.
Thomas Austin, 2,014.
George W. Whelan, 1,871.

It is almost certain that Messrs. Austin and Whelan are nominated.

There are two candidates for auditor, Wm. Reed and W. H. Rowlen. The former has 2,216 votes and the latter only 1,496, which insures the nomination of the Massillon man.

For county commissioner, James Brown has 1,994 votes and Richard B. Crawford, 1,764.

The vote for infirmity director stands, J. M. Howenstein, 2,017; A. P. Teel, 1,016; John A. Hay, 646.

The vote for surveyor is G. L. Sickfoos, 533; Charles D. Wise, 1,351; John S. Hoover, 1,799.

For delegates to the senatorial convention and members of the state committee there was not a single contest, the names selected by the local leaders being elected in the different wards.

A VICIOUS HORSE

The Same Animal That Led to Lindlow's Death Kicks With Serious Results.

The horse reared up and struck him in the face knocking the man into insensibility. He was picked up and carried into the store and Dr. A. B. Walker summoned. The wounds consisted of a gash two and one half inches long on the left side of the cheek, extending into the nostril, a wound inside of the nose, and several bad cuts on the forehead and chin. The doctor sewed up the cuts and the man is resting easily today.

BADLY BEATEN.

Louis Hahn About Used up by His Two Sons--What the Neighbors Say.

There was a lively family row at 131 East Tuscarawas street this morning. Louis Hahn, who resides above A. Garwood's grocery store had in some manner incurred the wrath of his two sons, Will and Frank. According to the statement of a young lady who lives in the block the sons went to the door of his room about 4 o'clock this morning and hammered on the door. The old man did not respond immediately and they burst the door open and threw the body of him knocking him down. One of the boys then dragged him out into the hall and tried to choke him while the other boy threatened to kill him as soon as he could find something with which to strike him in the head. Several women in the block had been aroused by the racket screamed lustily for help and Mickey Sullivan appeared on the scene and made the men stop their work. An eye witness says that she believes a murder would have been committed if help had not arrived in time. Mr. Hahn is very badly bruised up this morning, but has been hustling around securing witnesses to the affair. He intends to prosecute.

It was learned that the boys have been treating the daughters in the family in a very mean way. According to the statement of one of the women they lock one of the little girls in a vacant room all day and leave her nothing to eat but grass and straw. They add in proof of the assertion that one day when the girl was sick she vomited up some straw.

THEY ARE NOT BUGS.

Disease Microbes Are Vegetables, Says Dr. Evans--What His Microscopes Show.

The popular belief in regard to microbes is that they are minute bugs or worms. According to Dr. C. H. Evans of this city, the belief is erroneous. Microbes are little vegetable growths and act in about the same manner as the germs of yeast. In order to find out something about these minute producers of disease a New York reporter visited the office of the doctor and asked him if he could give a little information on the subject. It was readily granted and some very interesting facts obtained. The doctor has been interested in microscopic work for the past twenty-five years, and has some very fine instruments. The one which he reported passed through last night cost several hundred dollars and is one of the very best made.

His collection of microscopic specimens is also very fine and he not only had dead microbes of all sorts, but specimens of all parts of the human body.

The doctor was asked what advantage it was to study microbes. He said that it was of the utmost importance in diseases of the pulmonary organ. Doctors who have studied the subject for some time can tell by examining a man's spots whether he has a serious case of consumption or simply a sore throat. If the lung tissues are expelled it shows that the disease is in the lung. But if the tissue of the bronchial tubes is expelled it is known that a man is simply suffering from bronchitis. This can only be done with the microscope. It is always possible to tell in this manner just exactly what treatment a man needs.

"Well, how many of these microbes have been discovered?" asked the reporter.

"There are now 135 different species that have been classified. Seventy of these are disease producing."

"Do these microbes look alike?"

"The best way I can answer that question is to allow you to look at them," said he; and the doctor then inserted a slide containing the bacteria of consumption in the microscope and the reporter took a look at them, first being assured that they were dead and could do no harm.

The investigation showed them to be about one sixteenth of an inch long and of the same width as a hair. They looked more like the short end of a red lead pencil than anything else, and were perfectly straight.

The doctor was asked if that was the length of the ordinary microbe, and surprised the reporter by informing him that the specimens were magnified 164,000 times.

Asiatic cholera microbes were examined and found to be about the same length as the others, except that they were curved and resembled the comma used in punctuation.

The microbes of pneumonia were straight, but about four times as thick as the others.

An interesting explanation of how the specimens were prepared was given. Sputa is first dried on a glass and put through various dyes, and chemicals, and this bleaches out everything except the microbes. The microbes then stand out in bold relief, and are easy to examine.

"How do these organisms grow?" was asked.

"The cholera microbe has the power of separating itself into four parts," said the doctor. "Each one of these parts soon grows into a full fledged microbe, and separates. In this way millions can be propagated in a single day. The bacilli of tuberculosis do not grow so rapidly, as it can only separate itself into two parts."

"It is very easy to kill the microbes of cholera," said the doctor continuing. If a man keeps everything clean, and his body in good order he need have no fear of cholera. It is a disease of dirt. The bacilli of tuberculosis is very hard to kill, however. They may lie around for several years and live. A man is secure from them if his lungs and throat are in good condition. They are flying through the air in countless numbers, and if a man has a little inflammation in the lungs they are very apt to attack him and make a serious case."

The reporter was also shown the use of the microscope in the study of the structure of the human body, with its aid the most minute fibers can be examined, and a perfect understanding of their construction gained.

The study is very interesting, and it is being used to greater extent every day in the study of disease. With the doctor says it will be possible to hold a post mortem examination over a man before he dies.
